

Amy Perrine, Information Director

Amy earned her Bachelor of Science in Special Education from Trenton State College. She has spent more than 23 years in the field of Special Education including her work as a Teacher of the Handicapped, and Director of Childhood Services, for The Arc of Somerset County, Inc. Amy received a certificate of completion for a Special Education Advocacy Training (SEAT) course offered to approximately 60 individuals across the nation. The course was offered through the University of Southern California (USC) and The Council of Parent Attorneys and Advocates (COPAA). Presently, Amy attends Thomas Edison State College in pursuit of her Masters Degree in Management. Amy represents Autism New Jersey to the community, frequently presents on various advocacy topics and oversees the Information and Communication Departments.